Developing personal qualities

You will grow and develop as an individual throughout KS4.

Three really important personal qualities for success at KS4:

- Aspiration—Having a goal to aim for and working towards that goal drives you forward
- Endeavour—Having to strive for success is what makes us who we are.
- Independence—Having the ability to manage your studies and your wellbeing will be something you develop over KS4 as you balance the demands of your qualifications with engagement in extracurricular activities.

Pathways through key stage 4

Aspiration-Having a goal to aim for and working towards that goal drives you forward

- Studies show that by learning a foreign language, you will develop a range of skills that cannot be developed as fully elsewhere in the curriculum.
- there is an expectation that the majority of students choose a foreign language as part of their Key Stage 4 (KS4) programme.
- only 30% of schools nationally offer a choice of language.

You are free to make two choices from the full range of subjects.

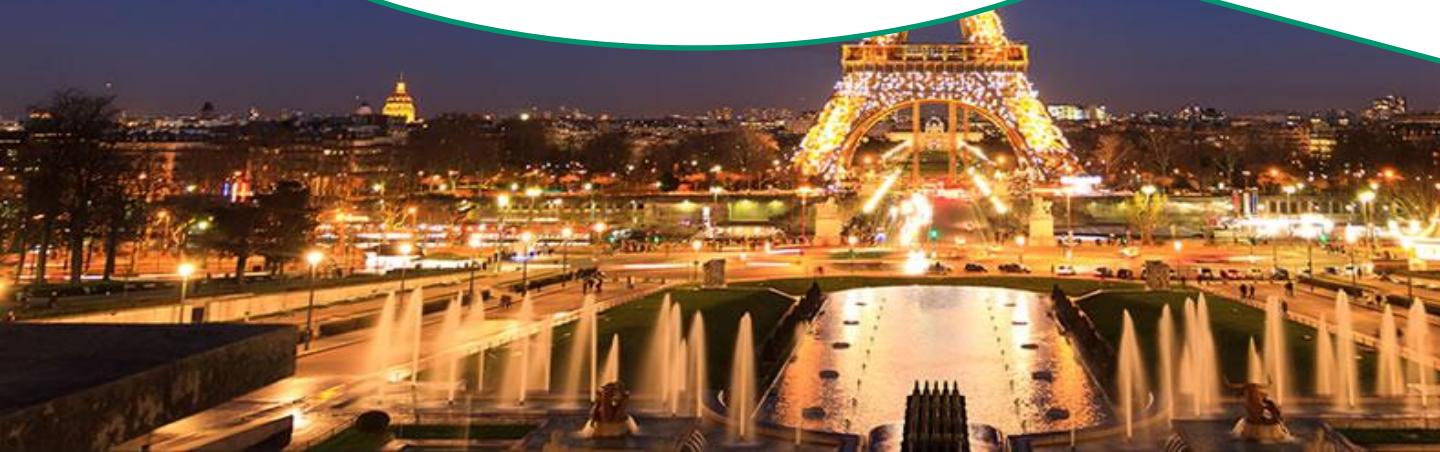

Mollie contacted the school during lockdown to offer online support in French and Spanish for GCSE and A level students. She said:
'Honestly my language degree was so so great, I did French and Spanish and despite a rubbish end to this year I really loved it! I ended up in Cannes for my first half working at a yachting company which was very snazzy then went to Valencia and studied for the other half! I am home at the moment but I'm hoping to head to Nottingham in September and do an MA in French translation (if it goes ahead) so that's exciting!

Mollie Lippett

"I had the privilege of talking with the President of France together with the Prime Minister of Great Britain! The French president commented on my excellent French accent and this prompted our Prime Minister to ask me if I had studied Languages at University, and I proudly answered yes"

Amelia Peachmond

Pathways through key stage 4

Endeavour-Having to strive for success is what makes us who we are.

- You should make 3 choices, one of which may be a language.
- When making your choices consider which assessment route will suit you best.

Pathways through key stage 4

Independence-Having the ability to manage your studies and your wellbeing will be something you develop over KS4 as you balance the demands of your qualifications with engagement in extracurricular activities.

- This pathway allows you to choose the same options as in the Aspiration and Endeavour pathway but in addition you are able to undertake functional skills qualifications through a Key Skills course.

Making good decisions

- Choose areas that interest and inspire you
- Find out about the subjects from the teachers
- Look at your reports and consider your strengths
- Take advice from staff and relatives
- Do not choose subjects based on who you think might teach them
- Do not choose subjects based on friendships
- Ask God to give you wisdom and invite him to be with you as you decide
